Summary:

This fun Christmas musical stars Cameron, a crazy camel DJ coming to you on CMTV in the Middle East. His witty newscasts, weather report, and sports highlights are interspersed with his presentation of the top five Christmas songs. You'll also hear humorous commercials that you'll enjoy staging. Soundtracks are included for songs. This program was written with puppets in mind but could be adapted for children's choir.

Comments:

The songs in this program are great, but there is also a lot of fun humor in the commercial segments. With its limited number of characters (many of whom only have one scene), this is a very easy program to produce. It also has a sequel, "Countdown to Easter," you can perform a few months later.

Bottom line:

This program's simple format makes it popular one with groups who are short on time or have a limited number of performers to work with.
