Characters:

There are six main speaking parts with a few other smaller parts.

Summary:

On the hills outside of Bethlehem, a family of shepherds (with epic beards, of course), learn about what the prophets said would happen in Bethlehem. They then become a part of the story unfolding on the night Jesus is born. They learn that even though you may have to wait and see it happen, God always keeps his promises.

Comments:

The title and premise of this musical plays off of the popular Duck Dynasty TV show. So you'll be able to have fun with kids wearing large beards. A few of the songs have a bit of a down-home country flavor to them. Some of the characters do have lengthy lines and will most likely need to be played by older kids.

Bottom Line:

This musical tells the Christmas story from a unique angle. It's emphasis on the prophecies that foretold the birth of Christ is an important theme that is overlooked by many other musicals.
